Join LAEF Fall After-School Classes!

(Los Alamitos, CA) – The Los Alamitos Education Foundation’s fall after-school classes are beginning this month on all district campuses! Participating children will experience amazing enrichment opportunities taught by credentialed and highly-qualified teachers in a small class environment.

Parents are highly satisfied with LAEF classes! District Parent Amy Payne says, “My daughter loves LAEF classes because we can round out her learning by giving her instruction in art and sewing. The hands-on projects show the fruits of her labor, and she is given a sense of excitement and achievement. I am very happy with the quality and value of LAEF classes.”

Classes are right on campus immediately following the end of the school day. 50 classes are being offered across the district with 13 types of classes including Mandarin, Spanish, art, drama, dance, science, sewing, karate and driver’s education. Over 450 students participated in classes last spring; LAEF is facilitating even more participation now by offering additional scholarships, thanks to the support of Run Seal Beach and the Miller Foundation. LAEF is proud to offer these enrichment opportunities as the non-profit partner of Los Alamitos Unified School District.
