

The Young Americans company of 50 singers, dancers and staff will present a three-day workshop filled with music, dancing, singing and fun! Not only will the workshop build skills in the performing arts, students will grow in confidence, teamwork and acceptance through mentorship from the Young Americans. No prior training or experience necessary!

The first two days are filled with classes, staging and rehearsal exercises. On the third day, the students perform with The Young Americans on stage in a concert for the community, featuring the students' personalities and newly discovered talents! Show tickets are sold separately.
