When he and his parents moved to the United States, Mr. Pontes maintained an active life by playing a range of different sports. He played volleyball, tennis, basketball, and soccer. Mr. Pontes is a first-degree black belt in Hapkido, which is a Korean martial art. Bruno has taught several classes in Hapkido and discovered that he loved the sparkle in his students' eyes when they learned a new move that he had taught them. As a result, Mr. Pontes decided to pursue a career in teaching physical education. This choice led him to attend CSU, Long Beach where he finished up his undergraduate degree in Kinesiology in the spring 2017. Mr. Pontes is excited to continue to teach the students of Los Alamitos how to live healthy lifestyles through playing sports, eating healthy and exercising regularly all while having fun! This is Mr. Pontes 3rd consecutive SEI!
